

Are you passionate about Finance, Innovation and Tech for Good?

WHO WE ARE

Innovobot Resonance Ventures™ is a Tech for Good seed stage venture capital fund based in Montreal, investing in Canadian Deep Tech companies.

Our investment thesis is built on three pillars:

- We believe there is a whitespace opportunity in revolutionary technologies. We invest in complex systems that can address real world problems.
- We focus on the double bottom line – we invest in companies that have a positive social and/or environmental impact.
- We have a PE approach to VC. We only invest where our strong technical and operating expertise can minimize execution risk and increase stakeholder value.

We believe that capital is not enough for early-stage companies to succeed and draw from our extensive entrepreneurial experience to provide hands-on operational support to our portfolio companies, significantly increasing the likelihood of success.

We are looking for a:

Fund Intern

Reporting to the Managing Partner, the Fund Intern will be primarily focused on supporting the senior investment team with fundraising and investment research, data analysis, and market research. The role is a great opportunity to understand the nuances of seed stage investing in a VC firm and fundraising market dynamics.

MAIN RESPONSIBILITIES

- Conduct industry, market, and company-specific research.
- Build financial models and perform a variety of quantitative, data-intensive analyses.
- Participate in the review of opportunities that will be the subject of a preliminary analysis and ensure its completion.
- Maintain relevant internal databases.
- Develop effective research and monitoring tools.
- Participate in the development of work processes and update the required information.
- Set up and update internal performance dashboards.
- Support the investment team in developing documentation for fund operationalization.
- Support the preparation and organization of the various exchanges and meetings with partners.
- Support the team in the day-to-day management of fundraising and portfolio building.
- Update marketing materials and assist with investor relations.
- Contribute to miscellaneous special projects as needed.

SKILLS & QUALIFICATIONS

- Undergraduate degree in finance or accounting with excellent academic credentials.
- CPA, MBA, CFA completed or in progress is considered an asset.
- Relevant experience in private equity/venture capital, investment banking, consulting, or another related field is considered an asset.
- Demonstrated interest in entrepreneurship and technology
- Knowledge of IT tools and databases used in the financial markets.
- Highly developed analytical capability with proficiency in financial modeling.
- Excellent interpersonal skills and the ability to work within a collegial, team environment.
- Strong verbal and written communication skills in both English and French.

The ideal candidate demonstrates a high degree of intellectual curiosity and work ethic, strong organizational skills, and attention to detail, as well as autonomy and initiative to adapt to a fast-paced environment.

Innovobot Resonance Ventures values diversity and inclusion, and is committed to creating a respectful environment for all employees.
